Professional Summary

I have over four years of diverse professional experience in pharmaceutical preparation, team supervision, and marketing and sales. I began my career as a pharmaceutical preparer and sales representative for one year, gaining valuable experience in handling medical products and customer interaction. I then worked as a supervisor at Al-Ittihad Company for one year, where I was responsible for managing operations and overseeing team performance. Following that, I spent two years as a marketing representative at Al-Baraka Feed Company, where I successfully promoted products, built strong client relationships, and contributed to increasing the company's market share.
